

DISHONESTY OF DRY LAW TENDS TO DEFILE MEN

Smith States Laws Regulating Personal Conduct Only Successful When Paralleled by Divine Commandment

CRITICISES BRYAN

Narrow Reasoning of Commoner on Wet Question Makes Him Unable to Understand Point at Issue, He Says

Albany, June 10.—"Laws regulating the personal conduct of the individual have only been successful when they have paralleled a divine commandment," and "the inherent dishonesty of the Volstead act tends to promote dishonesty in its enforcement," Governor Smith said tonight in a statement answering five questions on prohibition asked by the New York Times and answered by William Jennings Bryan in the edition of this morning, in which he criticized the governor's attitude on the liquor and state's rights question.

The New York Times has requested Mr. Bryan to answer the following questions in its edition of Sunday, June 10, wherein Mr. Bryan is understood to reply to five questions submitted to him by that newspaper, said Governor Smith. "Mr. Bryan shows throughout his answers to the questions asked by the Times that he has completely missed the point stressed in my memorandum on the repeal of the Mullan-Gage enforcement law of this state.

"The first question he is asked is, 'Will prohibition be a leading issue in the next Democratic convention?' Running true to form, he uses a thousand words in replying and says nothing.

Second Question Unanswerable.

"No living person could answer the second question, 'What strength will the wet and dry be able to command?' Mr. Bryan attempts to answer it and says less than he did about the first question.

"Mr. Bryan could answer the third question, 'Do you believe prohibition will continue to be an issue in national politics?' by saying that it never has been an issue and the question of repealing the 18th amendment never will be; but it is quite possible that a sane and sensible definition of what constitutes an intoxicating beverage might be a prominent issue.

"The fourth question, 'What effect has Governor Smith's action on the Culliver bill had on the national situation?' Mr. Bryan answers by making a reference to 'King Alcohol' and to woman suffrage.

"When he answers the fifth question, 'What of his (meaning my) assertion of states' rights in connection with his action?' the great commoner goes to the height of absurdity. According to Mr. Bryan there is apparently no such thing as states' rights. If that is not a fair inference to take from his remarks, one must take the only other possible, and that is, that Mr. Bryan himself does not understand what states' rights means. For instance, he asks in effect, whether New York ever showed an interest in the rights of any other state to protect their citizens in their rights to discard alcoholic liquor? That question lacks the elements of common sense. Does Mr. Bryan suppose for a moment that New York should send any policeman to Kansas to enforce the laws of Kansas?

MACON SUFFERS FROM HEAVY RAIN

$1,000,000 Estimated as Damage; Couple Nearly Treppled in Low Spot

Macon, Ga., June 10.—Damage estimated at $1,000,000 was caused to Macon property by a storm which broke over this city at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon. More than six inches of water, it was reported by the weather bureau, fell in less than an hour and a half.

While the storm was at its height, Curry's hall on Giles street, was flooded and firemen had to rescue nine persons on the second floor. The firemen found all exits washed away and the building ready to collapse.

George S. Woodruff and a companion drove an automobile into the underground railway near the station when the storm broke to put up side curtains. Before the task was completed the water was up to the bottom of the car. They tried to start the engine and could not. In a few minutes the water was up to the top of the car. Woodruff carried his companion out, though the water was up to his neck.

About half a million persons visited the resort today.

STEAMER SINKS; CREW AND PASSENGERS REPORTED SAFE

(By the Associated Press.)

London, June 10.—The British steamer Malden, bound for London from Calcutta, with a heavy cargo, is sinking off St. Johns Island in the Irish sea, according to a dispatch to Lloyds from Port Sudan today.

Another steamer, 20 miles distant, was reported to have answered the distress calls of the Malden. The number of passengers and crew of the Malden is unknown.

A later dispatch to Lloyds from Port Sudan says that the Malden went to the bottom and is a total loss. The passengers and crew were rescued.

FILIPINO KILLED GIRL IN QUARREL

Man Who Would Cast Body Into River Says Decline of Proposal Angered Him

New York, June 10.—Crying for execution as punishment for his deed, Eliaz Lopez, Filipino houseman, was taken to West side court today for arraignment on a charge of strangling to death his sweetheart, Blossom Martin. Despite his plea for quick action his case was postponed until tomorrow.

Lopez, arrested at Elizabethport, S. I., when he attempted to cast the body of the girl into the river, was haggard and worn when taken from his cell this morning. He had paced his cell throughout the night, unable to close his eyes to the joys and curses heaped upon him by other prisoners in the same tier.

Yesterday Lopez told police he had killed Miss Martin with his bare hands. He was said to have confessed to them that he became angered because Miss Martin told him she did not think he was able to support a wife, and because he was jealous of her friendship with a married man.

Miss Martin's mother, Mrs. Harvey Martin, of Troy, arrived today and claimed her daughter's body.

Choked Her Once.

Miss Ella Lichtenberg, Miss Martin's chum, told how the slain girl had lived in terror of the Filipino, that he had tried to choke her several weeks ago and probably was saved then by the ringing of the telephone bell, that he had shot at her once and often had crept silently upon her when she was in the doctor's office alone.

She said Miss Martin spoke to her of the Filipino as "the savage," and told how he used to "stalk her, just like a jungle savage would stalk a bird."

"One night I sat with her in a room," she said, "Lopez did not know I was there. I fastened my eyes on the knob of a closed door, why, I do not know. Then it began to turn with uncanny slowness. A moment later the door opened slightly and the distorted face of the Filipino peered through. He saw me and closed the door."

NATIONALIZATION OF ANTHRACITE MINES PLANNED

U. S. W. Submit Complete Details to U. S. Coal Commission; Public and Owners Would Control

OWNERS TOO GREEDY

Plan Said to Confine Claims of Investors "to Reasonable Limits"; Adjusts Price to Consumers

Washington, June 10.—A complete plan for nationalization of Pennsylvania anthracite mines, with operation under control equally representing the miners, mine managers and the public, has been laid before the United States coal commission by the miners' union. With it was submitted some criticism of the commission's present coal leasing methods and a request for public hearing on the miners' proposal. An alternative plan for a general reduction of capital investment and capital charges in the industry also was submitted.

Based on the miners' opinion that "limitation of the investors' constantly increasing claims upon the industry is now in order," the plan was declared to confine the claims of investors "to reasonable limits," to provide for "permitting the standard of living of miners to grow with the productive expansion of the country," and to bring about adjustment "of price to consumers to these two factors."

The alternative plan proposed the elimination of present ownership of the anthracite mines, by the substitution of six per cent bonds, based on "sacrifice value" for the present stock and other securities and the setting up of sinking funds which would pay off the bonds in 50 years.

Most Release Stockholders' Grip.

"The sacrifice value" in the turnover, the plan explained, would be the original cost of the mining properties, less any profit over a reasonable return rate which the owners have obtained during development and operation, or plus any deficit under reasonable plan which they have incurred. The miners' figures indicated that a total value of $100,000,000 would be found on this basis for existing anthracite deposits, and that this value could be retired by a charge of 28 cents per ton of coal mined, as compared with 78 cents, which it was said owners took in 1913 operations, and $1.40 per ton which it was estimated they took in 1922-23.

The valuation plan was declared to be suitable "in a monetary like and suitable" in a monetary like and suitable, and to express the principle that "the anthracite industry should pay for capital what it has to pay and no more."

"The law creating your commission provides for full investigation and report into the causes which induced strikes," the miners' statement said, "we know from bitter experience that the main cause is the ever accelerating claims of the holders of anthracite securities. There is no solution of the economic problem of anthracite until this intolerable grip is relaxed; until the public service function of the industry is frankly recognized, and until the claims of investors are confined to reasonable limits, the standard of living of the miners permitted to grow with the productive expansion of the country, and the price of consumers adjusted to these two factors."

Submitting some statements on what present ownership charges in anthracite are, the statement said that $3,950,000 in royalties had been taken by Stephen Girard and his estate from 520 acres of land which in 1820 cost him $2,549; that "probably understated" profits in 1920 of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation were $1,000,000; of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre, 55 per cent; of the Lehigh Valley company, 19.17 per cent; of the Pittston and Reading coal and iron company, 8.41 per cent; and of the Temple coal company 121 per cent.

In behalf of the miners, the statement was signed by Thomas Kennedy, C. J. Golden and William Brennan, president of the three anthracite sections of the United Mine Workers, and Ellis Seavie and John Moore, representing the International Organization of the union.

TREASURY SEEKS SHORT TIME LOAN

$150,000,000 Needed to Round Out Financing for Fiscal Year; to Run Six Months

Washington, June 10.—The treasury tonight announced it would seek a loan of $150,000,000 to round out its financing for the current fiscal year, ending June 30. The new certificates of indebtedness will mature in six months, and it is expected, will be retired largely by tax receipts in the next two quarterly payments. The interest rate will be four per cent, slightly lower than previous offerings of government securities have paid.

The new issue will enable the government to conclude the refunding of its short dated debt, begun in 1921, and no further financing will be necessary. It was stated officially, until the middle of September. Proceeds of the new certificate offer, which will be dated June 15, together with the June 15 payment of income and profit taxes expected to amount to $250,000,000 or more, will take care of certificates of indebtedness maturing on that date and provide for the running expenses of the government until September 15.

About $12,000,000 in interest on the public debt falls due June 15, but that can be met promptly through the tax receipts as can the interest payments due in July and August. With the treasury carrying a cash balance of $250,000,000, officials declared today the government's financial position was better than the most optimistic supporters of the refunding program had anticipated.

FIVE DROWN IN KANSAS FLOODS

150 Passengers on Santa Fe Mailed; Practically All Rivers in State Over Banks

Kansas City, June 10.—At least five persons are believed to have lost their lives as a result of floods in Kansas, and virtually every stream in the state is running high. The property damage could not be estimated tonight. Many cities reported that their losses would run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Two casualties were reported at Arkansas City which suffered the worst flood in its history. The body of one unidentified youth was seen floating down a swollen stream and an aged woman, marooned in her home, shot herself in fear that she would be drowned. At Winfield, Wesley Brown, a student at Southwestern college, was drowned when he attempted to cross a flooded street. Pat Taylor and an unidentified man were also reported drowned at Winfield.

One hundred and fifty passengers aboard a Santa Fe passenger train are marooned near Winfield, according to reports. Railroad tracks are said to have been washed out ahead and behind the train.

REVOLUTION IN BULGARIA TURNS OUT OFFICIALS

Zankof Replaces Stambouliski as Premier by "Simple Incident in Internal Life of Country"

CAUSES FOREBODING

Paris Sees Possibility of Severe Trouble; London Fears for Future Stability of the Balkan States

(By the Associated Press.)

Sofia, Bulgaria, June 10.—A simple incident in the internal life of the country is the way in which the Bulgarian government describes the coup d'etat, which overthrew the Stambouliski government and brought the cabinet ministers to jail. Just what effect it will have on the Bulgarian foreign policy is not yet divulged. The existing public forces are well able to maintain order, and the mobilization of additional troops has not been called for.

The statement declares: "The new government will be guided by the inflexible principles of justice and democracy in restoring Bulgaria's internal peace and order and will cultivate the closest relations and good will with the great powers of the utmost execution of its international obligations."

Up to a late hour Saturday no conflict or bloodshed had been reported in any part of Bulgaria. Normal traffic was resumed yesterday afternoon when crowds thronged the streets. A meeting was held outside the parliament building and was addressed by the new ministers, Zankof and Bohovchevski. They declared the new government would reestablish the constitution. Later they visited the foreign legations. The ministers and the former Guekoff and Malinoff cabinets, charged with responsibility for Bulgaria's entry into the war, have been released.

Revolution Causes Foreboding.

Paris, June 10.—The Bulgarian revolution foreboding in both French official circles and Bulgarian diplomatic quarters. While no one today was willing to express an official opinion regarding the significance of the coup d'etat, officials did not conceal misgivings that it may mean the beginning of very severe trouble, even the possibility of an outbreak of hostilities in the Balkans.

Allied circles see in the revolt the cropping up of a very unwelcome problem element, which, if it should be successful in holding power, may stir up serious Balkan problems close to the western European countries and certainly inject a troublesome element into the Balkans just at a time when it was hoped the Near East was settled down to peace.

London Apprehensive.

London, June 10.—No event since the Greek convulsion of last October has raised such apprehension in the minds of the foreign statesmen regarding the future stability of the Balkan states as the Bulgarian revolution. Little was expressed today in many quarters whether the new revolutionary regime would be strong enough to resist the powerfully organized Agrarian party, which numbers among its members a great part of the Bulgarian peasantry.

Some observers fear the present regime may lead to civil war.

Although no news has been received as yet regarding King Boris, it is assumed that he remains on the throne.

WIN FORTH TREATIES.

Paris, June 10.—The French government has received a message from the new Bulgarian government giving assurances that it intends to live up to the terms of the peace treaties and all other foreign engagements signed by the Stambouliski government.

TURKS SEEK MORATORIUM ON OTTOMAN DEBT INTEREST

(By the Associated Press.)

Istanbul, June 10.—An effort is being made to obtain some form of moratorium for Turkey from the holders of foreign bond holders regarding the payment of interest on the Ottoman debt. The bondholders, however, are not being asked to abandon their right to be paid in foreign currency.

"Sublimely optimistic" appeared to prevail among the allies today after the special meeting of Near East conference leaders to discuss the critical Ottoman debt question. The meeting was confined to Istanbul, for the Turks, and the principal allied delegates.

Everybody was cheerful in talking about what had occurred. All agreed the negotiations were useful, but admitted a solution was far off. Experts of loan syndicates were meeting tonight, and will continue to meet all day tomorrow in an endeavor to find the way to a compromise.

HUSBAND FORCED TO GIVE BLOOD TO WIFE HE SHOT

Chicago, June 10.—In what was termed by the police today to be an unparalleled case of retributive justice, a husband who had attempted to kill his wife, was today forced to give his blood to save the life of his wife.

As the climax of a family quarrel, Theodore Marty cut the throat of his wife, Martha, and fled to a hospital. It was announced that immediate blood transfusion would be necessary to save Mrs. Marty. Her relatives, however, cried, "Marty to the operating room. Two quick transfusions were made and the transfusion completed. Mrs. Marty will live, the doctors said.

MAYOR INDICATES COMPANY TO BLAME

Executive of Schenectady Tells Weathermen 'Deplorable Conditions Seem to Be Caused by Attitude of Management'

Schenectady, June 10.—Three arrests, minor disorders and a charge by Mayor Clarence A. Whitmore that the Schenectady Railway company seemed to be to blame for the strike, have developments over the week-end on the car strike situation here. The city tomorrow at 10 a. m. will attempt to bring about the resumption of the railway, which has been prevented from operating by the company. Mayor Whitmore said that the "deplorable conditions now existing as to traffic in Schenectady seem to be caused by the attitude of your management toward the organization composed of your employees." Suggesting the desirability of an early settlement of differences Mayor Whitmore asked Mr. Weatherwax if the company would consent to arbitrate wages and working conditions with the men, provided that the present officers of the employees' union, Walter Walker, president, and Michael Ward, business agent, be eliminated from negotiations and new officers elected. The company was further asked if it would reinstate employees now on strike should such negotiation prove successful.

Two striking car men are to be arraigned tomorrow morning charged by one of their members, who returned from a strike in New York City, with a plot in connection with the disorders of Wednesday last. A third man will be arraigned charged with damaging railway property.

Cars were stalled yesterday in several sections of the city, apparently, according to police, by a gang of young men who are in no way affiliated with the strikers. Cars were operated without hindrance today.

POLICEMAN KILLED AT ROAD HOUSE

Gangsters Held Up Resort and Slay Officer Before He Could Draw Revolver

St. Louis, June 10.—Patrolman Edward Griffin and John L. Sturgis, police men, were killed today during the robbery of a road house. All available police and detectives were scouring the city tonight in a search for the slayers. A young woman who was present at the police man's death is being sought. Officer Griffin, who was in uniform, but off duty, was shot to death before he could pull out his revolver when the gangsters attempted to hold up a resort. The officer was shot in the neck, head and back, and the gangsters fled with his revolver.

Police, who said Surant probably was passing the road house as the gangsters were fleeing, expressed the opinion that it was forced to take several of them off by his automobile. Shortly afterward "Surant" was found on the sidewalk with a bullet hole in his body and a hand held to his forehead. He died at a hospital without regaining consciousness. Surant's machine was found abandoned.

The girl, aged about 27, saw the policeman shot, and held him in her arms when he died, according to the pattern of the report.

PIERRE LOTI, NOTED AUTHOR, DIES IN FRANCE

Returns Home Last Tuesday; in Fair Health for Long Time; Finest Descriptive Writer of His Time

FORCED TO WRITE

Friends Demanded He Relate Experiences in Constantinople as Seaman; Always Wrote at Sea

Hendaye, France, June 10.—Pierre Loti, the novelist, died at his home here today. The end came peacefully, with his bedside surrounded by his friends and a few friends.

Mr. Loti had been in frail health for a long time. He returned to his beloved Basque country last Tuesday and sank rapidly until death intervened. He will be buried in a tomb he built on the island of Oleron, in the Atlantic off the coast of Charante Inferieure.

When at his best Pierre Loti was judged by many critics of literature to be the finest descriptive writer of the last quarter of the 19th century and the early years of the 20th. For forty years he traveled the seas as a French naval officer and visited lands in all parts of the world. Returning from these distant journeys he would record his impressions in novels and other works wherein he blended fact and fiction, autobiography and romance, fantasy and photographic description.

His real name was Louis Marie Julien Claud. The parents, to whom he was born at Rochefort in 1850, were of old Huguenot families, and they intended that the son be a minister, but at 17 he entered a naval school and rose gradually in this profession until, in 1866, he was commissioned a captain.

Writes to Friends.

The itch that sets authors to scratching paper with pen, undaunted by rejection slips, did not attack Loti, who began writing only because he was persistently dogged by those who wanted him to unfold curious experiences that befell him at Constantinople. To please them he published "Aziyade," at the age of 28. Loti, while in the navy, served in many French colonial campaigns. Once, when asked if his position did not interfere with his literary endeavors, he replied that the opposite was the case—he did all of his writing at sea.

Most of Loti's travels were in the Orient, and most of his literature has its setting in that part of the world. He spent so much time in the Orient that he often referred to himself as having an "Eastern mind." He had, at least, the enthusiasm and the appreciation of the value of silence that one finds after crossing the Pacific westward.

A visit to the South Seas in the early eighties brought about production of his Polynesian idyll, "Le Mariage de Loti," which immediately attracted a large following to him. This was 20 years or more before Tahiti became a common hunting ground for authors and scenario writers. Later Loti wrote "Le Roman d'un Spahi," the tale of a soldier's ventures in Senegambia. His best known works came a few years afterward—"Madame Christy," "Disenchantment," "Decheur d'Islande," and "Fanny." The life of the French buccannier he described in the novel "Mon Frere Yves." Once he got in trouble and was suspended from the navy for a short time because of his exposure in the figure of a series of scandals which followed the capture of Hue in the Tonkin war, through which he served.

In 1892 Loti came to America to superintend the rehearsals of "The Daughter of Heaven," a dramatic spectacle which was given at the Metropolitan Opera House, in which he was co-star with Mile Judith Gautier. He was shy, refusing to let photographers snap him around and about at his hotel, and he professed himself to be overcome by the bombardment of reporters' interrogations. New York he described as a furious furnace of living.

"To my Eastern mind," he afterwards wrote in reference to the glitter of Broadway by night, "something seemed disconcerting and even rather diabolic, but it was so soft and also so ingenious that I was amazed and almost admired it all."

How many a loose club head has been temporarily stiffened?

Answered by LAURIE AYTON

Always a consistent place winner in the big tournaments—National Open, Metropolitan Open, Western Open, and sectional tournaments. Famed for his accuracy and steadiness under fire.

A loose club head may be temporarily tightened by soaking the head and lower shaft in a pail of water. This practice, however, is not recommended except as a temporary expedient. The trouble should be recommended to your professional as soon as possible.

SOME ESSENTIALS OF SUCCESSFUL PITCHER

Must Have Strength, Endurance and a Good Arm.

(By CARL LINDGREN, Baseball Coach, University of Illinois.)

The pitcher should have more physical ability than the average ball player. That is, he must have strength, endurance and a good arm. His work requires from an hour and a half to two hours of hard going, while if he lets down for a second the opposing batters will soon find him an easy victim. Probably the most essential requirement of a pitcher is control, then comes speed, curve, change of pace. By control we mean the ability to pitch the ball at the spot that is desired at the time desired. After deciding where the ball should be pitched, it does not necessarily mean the ability of the pitcher to get the ball over the plate, but rather the ability to pitch to a batter's weakness or away from the place where the batter hits the ball hard.

The pitcher may not have a good curve ball or a good fast ball, but there are very few who cannot get control by hard work and practice. In warming up never throw the ball in a haphazard fashion, but each time with a definite idea of where you want the ball to go.

The position of the pitcher in the box is very important. He should stand comfortably, with his body relaxed, and take plenty of time in sizing up the situation.

There are many different forms of winding up in starting the delivery. Whatever the style there should be no useless swinging of the arms that will serve to tire the pitcher out. In beginning the delivery start the body and arm forward together, bringing the arm with the ball as far as the shoulder, after which it is brought forward with a hard snap and push. The elbow should be bent only very slightly when coming over the shoulder.

The body should follow well through as the ball is being pitched, and the fielding position adopted at once. This enables the pitcher to start quickly for a hit ball which may come into his territory.

One very common mistake that pitchers make is that they use their arm and not their body with the arm, in pitching. Absolute co-ordination between the body and arm is necessary if the greatest amount of effectiveness is to be reached.

In pitching a fast ball, grip the ball with the first two fingers across the narrow part of the seam. This will give you a firm grip. Be careful not to crowd the ball too far down into the palm of the hand, but rather well out toward the end of the fingers. Then allow the ball to come off the end of the fingers with a hard snap of the wrist and fingers at the end of the arm motion.

The curve ball is thrown with exactly the same arm motion as the fast ball, the only difference being in the wrist and finish of the arm motion at the end. The ball may be held with the first two fingers, the long finger being along the seam of the ball or both fingers across the seam of the ball. The first part of the arm motion is started the same as for the fast ball, but the finish differs in that a hard drive down across the breast is made with his arm, giving the wrist a quick snap that causes the ball to revolve. The axis of rotation of the ball should be perpendicular with the direction you want the ball to curve. Do not allow the ball to leave your hand too high over your shoulder, but rather drive down hard across the breast. To curve well, a curve ball should break from the waist down.

John McGraw Would Take Ball Team to Far East

J. J. McGraw, manager of the world's champion New York Giants, has laid plans for taking a baseball team to Australia and New Zealand either late this year or in 1934. B. J. Kerland of Sydney, N. E. W., proposed such a trip to the Giant leader, who expressed enthusiasm at the project. It is probable that the team selected will also play in Japan, Hawaii and the Philippine Islands.

Willie Ritola Seeking His Citizenship Papers

Willie Ritola, the famous runner of New York, came to the United States from Finland in 1914. He started running in 1912. He received his first citizenship papers a year ago, and should receive his final papers next April. He will then be eligible to carry the American shield in the Paris Olympic games. Harry D. ("Red") Eaton of Baltimore, Pa., for two years a forward, has been elected captain of the Washington and Jefferson basketball team for next season.

ONEONTA TAKES TWO

ONEONTA BEATS LORE 2 TO 0 AND 3 TO 4 BATTERS TO RUN-OUTED COLONIALS.

McAuliffe Pitched Four Game Sunday Against Former Team-Mates. Although Losing Decision—Bats Chased to Showers in Saturday Game—Oneonta Good Bouncing Card in Hudson River City.

Although putting up a good article of ball in both centers, Al Bridwell's Oneonta Giants lost both week-end games at Kingston to the renowned Colonials of that city, the Saturday contest going to the enemy by the score of 4 to 2, and yesterday's battle resulting in a 3 to 4 victory for Kingston. In the latter contest, McAuliffe, a member of the Kingston team last year, pitched a wonderful game, allowing his former team-mates but six hits and not relinquishing his grip on affairs until the last half of the ninth.

Saturday's game was a matter of heavy wounding of the willow by the sojourners on Hudson's banks. Davis was hit to all corners of the lot and Scanlon fared not much better. In the third stanza Laffy walked the first man and the next two batters hit doubles. Deegan punched out a single and two runs were across the platter. It was the showers then for Davis and Scanlon took up the burden. He weathered the storm during the remainder of the inning and no more runs scored, but in the next inning the enemy bats swung into action again and three hits meant the same number of additional counters.

Foraythe kept Oneonta's ten hits well scattered and was never in trouble. The game was full of sensational plays. Russell's difficult stop and throw from deep short being a veritable hair-raiser.

Sunday's game was a beautiful pitching duel between McAuliffe and Culliton with the Oneonta twirler having the better of the argument, although losing the contest, 5 to 4. McAuliffe allowed his former buddies but six hits, of which three were of the scratch variety. Except one, all of Kingston's runs were made on errors. McAuliffe fanned every Colonial at least once with the exception of Deegan.

Oneonta was trailing behind a four-run lead when Bridwell's cohort came to bat in the eighth. Wilcox first up, was thrown out at first. Ferry singled. Watkins hit one to the infield and was safe on an error, the misplay allowing Ferry to romp home and Watkins to reach second. Eckstein walked. Simon up. On a passed ball Watkins scored and Alexander took third. Simon and Brown singled in succession and two more runs were added, tying the score. Snustack reached the initial sack on an error. With the count three and two, McAuliffe was out on a called strike, which ended the rally and precipitated a heated controversy. Oneonta players contending that the ball was some few miles too high.

Kingston put the game on ice in their half of the ninth. Robins, first at the plate, hit an easy grounder to Brown who heaved the pellet over Alexander's head. Robins taking second. Schwab was out on an infield play and Russell fanned. Ross was rushed into the fray to bat for Culliton and pinch-hit his way to local fame by cracking out a single, scoring Robins with the winning run.

OTSEGO HIGH SCHOOL

Otsego, June 10.—The senior class is the largest to graduate from the high school in several years. Six pupils are finishing their course this June. Mildred Reeves has the highest record in the class and so will have the valedictory. Agnes Fowler stands second and so is the salutatorian. The other members of the class are Albert Hoyt, Alta Palmer, Alice Palmer and Marjorie VanDerwerken.

The program for Commencement week has been carefully worked out. Mr. Ellis has invited the graduating class and the teachers of the school to supper at the home of Mrs. Lewis, at six-thirty o'clock Friday evening, June 11. Later in the evening, at eight o'clock, all the friends of the class and the school are invited to a reception to the class, given at the home of Mrs. Lewis. At this time the class will present their class day program. The baccalaureate services will be held at the Presbyterian church at seven-thirty o'clock, at the time of the regular evening service, on Sunday, June 12. The commencement exercises will be held on Friday evening, June 22, at the Methodist church.

The class will be pleased to have all their friends attend these exercises. They appreciate what the community has done for them in making it possible for them to have a high school course, and they will be glad of an

Boy Falls Five Stories; Clothesline Saves Life

New York.—Jimmy Morzagliano, three years old, fell five stories from the fire escape at his home to a cement-paved court yard. His parents returned from the city hospital and smiled, as they said they had been told his injuries consisted of a scratch on an arm and another on the nose, but at the hospital Jimmy was reported in a serious condition.

A network of clotheslines from the back windows of the tenement where Jimmy lives, to a pole in the rear of the courtyard, saved him from being crushed on the pavement. He had climbed on a box to watch a ball game in the yard.

He clutched a clothesline and swung, swinging him into the railing of the fire escape off the first floor windows, from which he dropped to the pavement.

JUST THIRTEEN AMENDMENTS

Use of Fifty-Fight Bills Introduced in Legislature Seeking to Change Election Law—Voters May Say "Over Thirty"—Regarding Literary Test.

Albany, June 10. — There are thirteen bills introduced in the legislature seeking to change the election law, as the result of fifty-eight bills seeking to change the law, introduced during the recent session of the legislature. With one or two exceptions, the changes are but slight and rather technical in character, such as changing the form of the designating petition, or the number of polling places allowed in public buildings.

There is one change, however, in which many a woman voter, particularly those in New York city, will be interested. At registration days, from this fall on, a voter in New York city may give his or her age as being "over thirty years" while outside of the metropolis, a voter may say "over thirty," in case they do not care to divulge their exact age.

Booklet carrying the changes in the election law will shortly be issued by Secretary of State James A. Hamilton and will be sent to all election boards throughout the state, as well as being available for general distribution.

There is one change in the election law, which is of general interest, relating to the literacy test for voters. A certificate of literacy, issued to a voter under the regulations of the Board of Registrars, to the effect that the voter is able to read and write English, is to be received by registration boards as conclusive, with certain provisions. The genuineness of the certificate and the identity of the voter must be established to the satisfaction of the board and is subject to challenge. The inability of a voter to read and write English, notwithstanding the presentation of a literacy certificate.

WITHDRAW PAY RAISE

Supreme Court Holds Otago Supervisors Have Power to Withdraw Salary Boost Voted to School Superintendent—Crestmont—Gains Him Increase Until Date of Resignation.

The Board of Supervisors of Otago county must pay Harrison Crestmont, district superintendent of schools in Otago county, his salary raise of $400 for a period up to Jan. 12, 1923, although for the period after that time, the superintendent's salary is cut $400 a year, according to a decision handed down Monday by the Supreme Court Justice Leon C. Rhodes in an action brought by Mr. Crestmont for a permanent mandamus order forcing the Board of Supervisors of that county to levy taxes for the salary against the towns of Morris, New Lisbon, Butternut and Laurens, all embraced in the supervisory school district, says the Binghamton Press.

According to the opinion written by Justice Rhodes, the education law provides that the district superintendent of schools shall be paid a salary of $1,500 a year from the state. The Board of Supervisors in Otago county on Nov. 2, 1918, voted to raise the salary of the superintendent $400 a year, but on Jan. 12, 1922, voted to withdraw the increase.

Mr. Crestmont protested that the board did not have the right to cut his salary after giving him an increase until the term of office for which he was elected had expired. Justice Rhodes held that the salary increase was good until the date when the board passed a resolution withdrawing it, and that Mr. Crestmont is entitled to full pay until that time.

MOTOR CARS IN COLLISION.

Franklin Touring Car of Ziba Holbrook of Cooperstown Ruined.

Sunday forenoon the Franklin touring car of former Sheriff Ziba Holbrook of Cooperstown, which was being driven by his son, Bernard, was run into by a Studebaker special, six owned and driven by James P. Fitzgerald of 515 Mathews avenue, Utica, while Holbrook was turning from the side road into the macadam near the old Five Mile Point Inn, now the private property of Mr. Beale. Mr. Holbrook was intending to move north along the macadam to the camp house of his father on the lake.

The Fitzgerald car was being driven south along the macadam, was moving at a fast pace. Neither driver saw the other car until it was too late to avoid a collision and the Utica car struck the Franklin amidship and forced it through the fence and half way down into the bed of the brook south of the cross roads.

In the car with Fitzgerald were three ladies and one man, all from Utica but neither they nor Mr. Holbrook were injured. The Holbrook car was badly damaged, though the full extent will depend upon the later examination. Its owner said that as it looked he would not have it repaired. The Studebaker escaped with minor injuries save for a bent frame axle.

Responsibility for the accident rests upon some trees which have been planted along the west side of the main highway close to it, which hid the view of both drivers. Both owners are insured and the financial liability will doubtless be settled by the two companies. The occupants of both cars were fortunate in escaping injury.

ALL LABOR SAVING DEVICES

Will Be Found in the Future, Says C. H. Bennett.

In a labor-saving age, we find labor-saving devices everywhere, even on automobiles, points out C. H. Bennett, agent for the Page-Detroit Motor Car company.

"We have put everything on and into the future that will make it a perfect performing creature," says the manufacturer of his product, "and we have come to the point where we feel that now the future has full equipment."

"As a result, safety has been brought to its highest stage, for we equip with rear view mirrors, communication stop and tail light, double bumpers, front and rear, automatic windshield wipers, power steering, guard rail in town, largest brake surface per pound of automobile weight, and more."

"We have minimized the labor, adding to the convenience of the owner by installing a connected tire pump, two extra mounted tire, adjustable seats, column, combined instrument panel, rear view mirror, and handbrake control, rear light and handbrake type springs in the upholstery."

Several children have fallen recently into the fountain on the Normal grounds. It often contains fully six feet of water.

It is sometimes amusing to see a man who is generally regarded as an able financier spend four hours trying to find a man whom he can hire to do two hours work in the garden.

The following from Onondaga will be graduated this year from the Onondaga State Normal school: Harriet L. Burton, Mary E. Brainerd, John C. Chase, Frances J. Crowell, Sidney J. Firman, Walter D. Ford, John A. Reynolds, Frank D. Robinson, Lena M. Wilber, Ellen G. Wilson and Gertrude M. Yager.

Electric Lights in Schoharie.

Albany, June 10. — Hearing was held Friday before the Public Service commission on an application by the Schoharie Valley Light and Power company for permission to construct an electric plant in the towns of Duaneburg, Schoharie county, and Schoharie, Schoharie county. Both of the towns mentioned have granted franchises to the company and the approval of the commission of these franchises is sought in this case. Arthur S. Golden of Schoharie appeared as attorney for the petitioners, and Clyde H. Propper of Schoharie appeared as attorney for the Middleburgh and Schoharie Light, Heat and Power company, which company opposes the granting of the approval by the commission. The matter was adjourned to a date to be fixed later.

R. R. to Build at New Berlin.

The Onondaga Valley Railway company is planning extensive improvements on its road and construction work is proceeding on the roadbed. The new steam shovel is being used in grading. It is the plan of the company to put the road in ship shape order.

New tracks will be laid when the grading is finished, a new Y constructed, new rolling stock to be purchased and eventually a new station to be built and 10 or 15 houses put up for employes.

With This Moving in Southampton.

COMPLIMENT CONSUL WILBER.

New Zealand Worker Says Cooperstown Is Poorer for Loss of D. F. Wilber.

Wellington, April 22. — (Special Correspondence). — It is no more vainglorious courtesy to say that New Zealand is the poorer for the retirement of David Forrest Wilber from the high office of consul-general of the United States of America in this country. Mr. Wilber brought to the Dominion some of the atmosphere and vim of his homeland. Agriculture, stock breeding, trader, merchant, politician and traveler, he adapted himself quickly to conditions, and appealed to New Zealanders not simply as an experienced man of the world, but even more intimately as a personal friend and a well equipped publicist.

Mr. Wilber is to be succeeded by A. E. Ingram, who is expected to arrive here shortly. Meanwhile, T. E. Moran of the local staff is in charge of the consulate.

New Berlin Youth Wins Prize.

The William M. Polk second prize of $25 was awarded to William M. Polk of New Berlin at the annual commencement exercises recently of Cornell Medical college in New York city. Sixty-four students were graduated.

SHERIFF WILLIAMS AROUSED.

Summons Driver of Abandoned Bus Before Justice Carpenter Today.

Late Saturday night Sheriff Fred S. Williams of Cooperstown was notified that the driver of one of the Onondaga Cooperstown buses had abandoned his car near index and had left it standing partially on the macadam just north of the bridge over Oaks creek at index at a dangerous point at the foot of the steep grade there.

Sheriff Williams personally visited the scene and found that the bus had evidently been left there and was unprotected. He has summoned the driver of the car to appear before Justice Carpenter at Cooperstown this morning at 10:30 o'clock to answer to the charge.

Mr. Williams is investigating the complaint that has been made that the Worcester bus was also left at the side of the highway south of Colliers the same night. This it is understood was protected by a lantern on the side of the car.

LOCAL NEWS

—The Oneonta County Junior Project band will meet this morning in their new room in the court house at Cooperstown at 10:30 o'clock. J. E. Frederick and Rev. P. M. Luther of this city will attend the meeting.

—Children's Day was observed at the various city churches yesterday and the exercises proved most interesting to the large congregations. The programs printed in The Star of Saturday were carried out in full.

—The derailment of a U. & D. freight train near Kortright yesterday morning delayed traffic on the road for some hours and necessitated sending a special train out of Oneonta to bring to the city passengers marooned on the other side of the wreck.

—Owing to the heavy rainfall of Friday afternoon the annual picnic of the Burens club, which was to have been held at Wilton park, has been indefinitely postponed. Though lovers of the great out-of-doors, nature's manifestations Friday were not altogether pleasant.

—The Oneonta Red Cross will resume the baby clinics, commencing tomorrow. Hereafter the clinics will be held each Tuesday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock, at the Community house. Dr. House will be the physician in charge and he will be assisted by Miss Aldrich, Community Red Cross nurse.

MORE LAURELS FOR O. H. S.

Local School Boy Athletics Do Excellent Work in Intercollegiate Track Meet at Johnson City.

The sturdy track athletes of Oneonta High school added still more honors to their already considerable number in the Valley of Fair Play Intercollegiate Track Meet held at Johnson City Saturday afternoon, scoring 24 points and being voted out for first place in the Class B meet by Johnson City High school by a but a few points. Johnson City's excellence in field events, a department in which O. H. S. is weak, won her the meet. Charles, with 11 points, and Bush, with ten, were high point winners in the meet. Charles won the century dash in 10 5-8 seconds with Perkins second. Charles also won the 220-yard dash in 33 2-5 seconds and was third in the broad jump. Perkins placed third in the furlong. Bush won the 440 in 55 seconds, tied for first in the broad jump with a leap of 18 feet, 9 inches and was fourth in the 880. O. H. S. took first honors in the 880-yard relay. Bush, Perkins, Bauerle and Charles being the runners. Duilio and Knapp, other local contestants, gave good accounts of themselves, although they failed to place.

The track was slow and fast time was impossible. The class A competition was won by Schenectady High school. The meet wound up the track season for O. H. S., the most successful in the history of the school.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Memorial of Railway Trainmen and Order Railway Conductors Held Joint Services Yesterday at Calvary Church.

Last evening, at the Calvary Memorial church, Rev. J. A. Judge delivered a Memorial service to the members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and of the Order Railway Conductors. There was a very good audience, in spite of the fact that evening services in that church have been discontinued for the summer, and the decorations of the church, which were left from the Children's Day exercises in the morning were beautiful.

Rev. J. A. Judge took as his subject, "Zacharias in Exile." He described Zacharias as sleeping on in contentment. But events in that town brought in a crowd, which soon had the town in an uproar.

Bringing this story to today, Rev. Judge said that there are no sleeping towns in this country, largely because of the vast railroad system which has been developed. Our train service is the best in the world.

With approximate figures there are in Great Britain 22,000 miles of railroad, in France 31,000, in Italy 12,000, in Germany 29,000, and in Russia 48,000 miles. The total for these countries is 154,477 miles, while the total in the United States is 244,000. In fact, in this country is nearly one-half of the entire mileage in the whole world.

Continuing with his interesting statistics, Mr. Judge said that last year a billion passengers were carried in the United States, and that only 264 were killed. But the vital statistics with the rail workers are different. The number of those who lost their lives was 2,667, while the injured totaled 49,602. In this connection it is interesting to know that the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen has paid over $50,000,000 in benefits since its organization.

And the organization of the first lodge, from which 963 have arisen, took place in Oneonta, September 23, 1882.

In closing, Rev. Judge said "The casualties are the price of progress, and the railroads are one of the main reasons why the United States is the greatest country."

"The railroad men are soldiers of the common good; in the service of their brothers every day of every year."

ANNUAL MEETING COUNTY BAR

Chief Justice Harcock of Court of Appeals, Principal Speaker July 7 at Oneonta Country Club.

The annual meeting of the Otsego County Bar association is to be held at the Otsego Country club, Saturday, July 7, at high noon, to be followed by a luncheon, at which a rare list of speakers is promised.

Chief Justice Harcock of the court of appeals has definitely accepted an invitation to be present, and Justice Hinman of the appellate division will also attend if illness in his family does not prevent. Naturally, Justices McCann of Elmira, Kellogg of Oneonta and Rhodes of Binghamton will attend.

An effort is being made to secure the attendance of one of the most distinguished lawyers in the state, whose reputation as an able and eloquent speaker is nation wide, but any announcement to that effect will have to be made later, as there is some uncertainty about his being present. President Flaesch has announced the following committees for the event:

Entertainment — D. J. Kilkenny, chairman; L. D. VanWoert, George Wohleben, G. L. Gibbs, J. B. Jackson, H. D. McLaughlin, E. B. Holmes, Judge Shove, Judge F. C. Huntington, L. W. Hathaway, C. V. Smith, A. A. Pierson, C. A. Clark, B. G. Johnson, W. O. Hinnermeister, F. C. Keyes, Almond Cramer, J. P. Friery, J. S. Waterman, W. S. Eaton.

Reception—Judge Sheldon H. Close, chairman; Judge Welch, Judge Willis, Judge S. L. Huntington, Judge Cowles, Judge Bolton, Harris L. Cooke, Orange L. VanHorne, L. F. Putnam, J. F. Thompson, Owen C. Becker, Arthur Seybolt, J. D. Reed, Hon. Oscar F. Lane, W. D. Vanderwerker, Merritt Bridges, C. H. Merriam, S. W. Barnum, L. J. Barnes, W. C. McElroy.

Sunday School Conference. Owing to the storm of Friday evening there was not so large an attendance as was anticipated at the Sunday school conference at the First Presbyterian church. The address by Mr. Cartwright, however, was full of interest and all who were present heard some of the problems of the church in relation to the young very ably discussed.

On Thursday a conference was held in connection with a basket picnic at the Baptist church at Welcome. There was a large attendance and the several addresses were alike interesting and profitable.

One more meeting will conclude the work of Mr. Cartwright in Otsego county. It will be held at Schuylers lake on Wednesday.

Car Crashes Through Guard Rail

Earl D. Thayer of 101 River street and James Camp of 129 River street narrowly escaped serious injury when their Ford coupe crashed through a guard rail on the state road about a half mile above Canfield early Sunday morning. Broken steering apparatus was the cause of the accident. Neither man was hurt but the car was considerably damaged. State troopers from the Sidney barracks were on the scene soon after the accident and helped the men get the machine back into the road.

ing Squadron Foundation and succeeded to the head of the organization on the death of the former on August 1, 1929.

No admission is charged for any of the meetings held by the Flying Squadron. Everybody is invited. The Squadron is to be in Oneonta for a series of six big meetings on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, June 13, 14 and 15th. Both afternoon and evening meetings will be held in the First Methodist Episcopal church—the afternoon meetings at 2:30 and the evening meetings at 7:30 p. m. Mr. Stewart will be heard on the afternoon and evening of June 15th.

ST. PATRICK'S BELL

Interesting Hand-Woven Cloth Illustrates History of Famous Irish Treasure.

In the window of the Capron company store is a hand-woven Derryvale table cloth that illustrates a very pretty part of the history of Old Ireland—the story of the bell of St. Patrick. In old Irish times there was the saying, "As lucky as the Bell of St. Patrick"—for lost and hidden time and again through the centuries, this famous bell always reappeared.

St. Patrick landed in Ireland 433 A. D., the first apostle of Christianity. He gave bells to all the churches he founded, and the famous one is the "Clog an Edachta, the Bell of Armagh." It is quadrilateral, formed of two pieces of sheet iron, bent over to meet and fastened together with large-headed iron rivets.

It was first brought into the United States by St. Columella (561 A. D. 597). In 1425 the Four Masters referred to it as "The Bell of St. Patrick's Mill." It disappeared many times but was always rediscovered. It was unearthed at Stewartstown in County Tyrone, Ireland, and was again discovered at Blane Abbey. It vanished once more to reveal itself again at Shane's Castle in the possession of the O'Neills, who were descendants of Niall of Nine Houndages—St. Columella's clan of 561 A. D. Today the bell is in a shrine of beautiful old Celtic art in the Royal Irish Academy, Dublin.

With the cloth in the window are illustrations showing the processes through which linen goes from flax to cloth, and samples of flax in various stages of manufacture.

Miss Elizabeth Smith Missing

According to a report to the police department, Miss Elizabeth Smith, 16, of 28 West street left her home Saturday at about noon with clothes, and at an early hour this morning nothing had been heard of her. Her parents are very anxious to locate their daughter and any information as to her whereabouts should be reported to Chief Horton.

Miss Smith is sixteen years old, about five feet, five inches tall, light hair, blue eyes, and weighing about 125 pounds. She was wearing a wrist watch with the letters E. M. S.

COUNTY SPELLING CONTEST

To Be Held at High School Building in This City Tuesday, Commencing at 1:30 O'clock.

Following contests, which already have been held in the 24 towns of the county to determine the best speller among the students of the various towns there will be a county match in which the winners in the several towns will participate. This will be held at the Oneonta High school building Tuesday, commencing at 1:30 o'clock.

Supt. John H. Frederick of this district will conduct the contest, though it is probable that other district superintendents in the county will be present to watch the work of the contestants from the towns of their respective districts.

The winner of the county match will enter the state contest which is to be held at the State Fair grounds at Syracuse during the annual fair in September. There the winners in each county will be pitted against each other and the successful contestants there will secure prizes. Four prizes have been offered, as follows: $20, $25, $15 and $10, all in gold.

The expenses of the winners in each county from their homes to Syracuse and return will be paid and they will be entertained at one of the dormitories on the state fair grounds. They will be given an escort about the fair grounds by a representative of the state department of education and every effort will be made to have their stay at Syracuse enjoyable and profitable.

COLORS STARS TODAY

Return Contest With Ceter Philadelphia Team—Schedule for the Week.

A return booking with the Philadelphia Stars has been secured for today and the Oneonta Giants will take the field against the colored boys at 4:15 o'clock this afternoon in an attempt to even up with the barnstormers for the 10 to 7 trimming received at their hands last Tuesday.

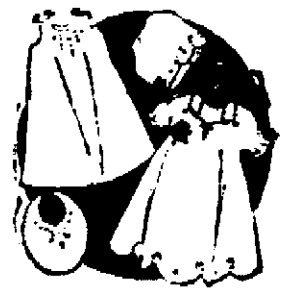

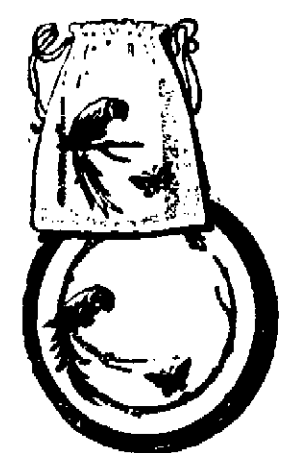

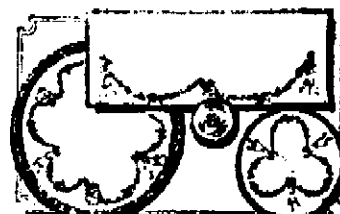

Fans, cheated out of three games last week by Jupiter Flamingo, will go to Neshewa park this afternoon with the expectation of seeing another good demonstration by the two teams. The hard-hitting visitors, who garnered 15 hits off of Scanlon and Davis last week, will call for the best Oneonta's moundsmen can deliver. Bridwell's players, put back in condition by the two-day stand at Kingston after their rainy weather vacation, are primed to take revengeful measures in order to even scores with the colored Pennsylvanians.

Utica White Knights, with Dewey Steffen, will appear on the local diamond on Thursday of this week. Oneonta playing a return game with them at Utica Friday. On Saturday the nine from Tannersville will cross the mountain to oppose Oneonta in the first of the series arranged by the two managements and on Sunday the Giants will be the attraction at the mountain resort.

WELL KNOWN WORCESTER MAN

Apparition Sketch of Life of Omer M. Sloat—Mass Long Proprietor of Leading Hotel—Funeral Services Largely Attended.

Worcester, June 10. — Omer M. Sloat, notice of whose death appeared in The Star of June 8, was born in the town of Worcester September 2, 1868. He spent his boyhood days upon his father's farm and was educated in the public schools of his native town. In early manhood he accepted a position as clerk in the central hotel of this village, then under the management of Squire Phelan, which position he filled most acceptably for many years.

His experience then gained, and attachments formed, had a profound influence in shaping the course of his later life. In 1897, like so many ambitious country boys, he listened to the call of the great city and cast his fortunes with the metropolitan police force. He remained there for eight years, was advanced in his work and at all times had the confidence of his superiors. He was of that type whose cool and discriminating judgment and steadfast attention to duty enable them in the course of time to reach the top. While his ambition urged him on, his heart was not really there, and so in 1905 when Mr. Sloat was ready to retire from business, Mr. Sloat eagerly grasped the opportunity to return to the scenes of his earlier labors, and became proprietor, remaining such until November, 1921, a period of over sixteen years.

During this time it is well within the bounds of conservative statement to say that the Central was the most popular hotel between Albany and Binghamton. This was due to his ability as manager, his courteous treatment of his patrons, his genial smile, and that human atmosphere about the man which must be real to endure.

Some years ago his health began to fail; but he struggled on, actuated largely by a desire to furnish a home for his aged aunt. Shortly after her death he disposed of his farm and hotel properties and gave the whole time in an effort to regain his strength. He went from health resort to health resort, but in vain, and his friends, while grieved, were not surprised when the end came last Thursday that Omer M. Sloat was no more.

Mr. Sloat took an active part in the civic affairs of the town and mingled with the fraternal activities of his fellowmen. He early joined the Masonic order and was a thirty-second degree Mason at the time of his death. He was also a charter member of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks at Oneonta.

He was successful, but he did not stoop to conquer. He was exacting, but he was square. He struggled to win a competence, but within there always beat a human heart. And now, at the time of his departure, many a silent tribute is paid, many a memory evoked by those who received some kind deed, some gracious act, not heralded from the house-tops. Just when he had reached the summit, when before him there should have stretched a score of happy years, the summons came. And yet, if we are here to do, to successfully carry on, it is worth while, and our mission is to play our part, then indeed, his life was complete and rounded to the full.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of S. W. Ferguson, as requested by the deceased. The large number of friends present and the profusion of beautiful flowers attested to the high esteem in which Mr. Sloat was held in the community.

Rev. W. D. Jones of the Presbyterian church officiated and the Masons and Elks attended in a body. Mrs. Helen Wentworth Salsbury.

Hartwick, June 10. — Mrs. Helen Wentworth Salsbury died at her home at Hinman Hollow today. Funeral services will be held from the home Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with Rev. N. B. Ripley officiating. Burial will be at Milford cemetery.

Mrs. Salsbury was born August 17, 1845, the daughter of Elisha Wentworth and Lucy Brockway. She was the widow of Delos Salsbury who died about twelve years ago, and is survived by a son, Edward Salsbury, of Oneonta, and a daughter, Mrs. Charles Lyon of Milford.

The gentlemen, both members of Kalurah temple of Binghamton, played in the Kalurah band. One hundred and twenty bands from all parts of the country provided the music for the huge gathering of the Shrine.

Miss Frances Satterlee and Miss Irene Mereness arrived in Oneonta on Sunday morning from Rock Springs, Wyoming, the latter to remain for some time with her father, Dr. S. A. Mereness, of this city, and the former for a brief sojourn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Harrington, en route to her home in Victory Mills, where she will spend the summer. Miss Satterlee is in charge of the placement department of the public schools at Rock Springs.

ELLA EGLISTON BELL

Death Sunday Morning of Beloved Young Woman Resident of Oneonta in City — Funeral Tuesday at 2 P. M.

Death seems never so to fill hearts with sadness and regret as when it strikes down one in the bloom of youth, with a life of usefulness ahead. Such regret and sorrow was the lot of many in Oneonta yesterday upon hearing of the death at 7 a. m. at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Eggleston, 17 Maple street, of Mrs. J. Merville Bell, News of her passing came as a shock to many who, although knowing of her illness, which was of about four months' duration, had thought the recovery was in sight.

Ella Horton Eggleston was born in Oneonta in October, 1899, the daughter of William F. and Mary (Delamater) Eggleston. She received her preliminary education in the Oneonta schools and in 1916 was graduated from the high school. In the fall of that year she entered the Oneonta Normal and was graduated from that institution in 1918. She was a member of the Chionan sorority at the Normal. Following her graduation she taught for two and a half years in the public schools of Gloversville and on September 24, 1921, was united in marriage to John Merville Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bell of this city. They lived in Albany until October of 1922, when they moved to Oneonta. Mr. Bell going into the Oneonta Grocery company with his father-in-law.

Mrs. Bell had been since early girlhood a member of the First Presbyterian church. As a member of the Sunday school and later as a faithful attendant at the church services she had testified to the strength of her belief, the sincerity of her devotion to the principles of Christian girlhood and womanhood.

Surviving are the husband, the parents and one sister, Miss Edith Eggleston, a student at the Normal school. To the parents, whose daughter was yet close to the fireside, to the sister, bereft of an understanding companion and to the husband, whose helpmeet has so soon been lost, the deepest sympathy of all will be extended.

The funeral will be held at the Eggleston home at 2 p. m. on Tuesday and will be conducted by Rev. Dr. James C. Russell of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. Dr. Charles S. Pendleton of the Main Street Baptist church. Interment will be made at Glenwood cemetery.

The death of one so greatly beloved, alike in home and community, who in the morning of life seems to have been cut down untimely, carries with it much more than brief remembrance or a passing sorrow. Born in the city of Oneonta and save for a short interval a continuous resident here, she had gathered to herself many devoted friends who fully appreciate the qualities of a nature modest and unassuming, a kindness of heart that held nothing save goodness, the loyalty of spirit which embraced not only her immediate family but all with whom she came closely in contact, a purity of thought and a characteristic fineness of mental fibre which were in high degree notable. Recollection of these things, however, will not be availed for sorrow. The memory of her years of worth and work will remain as a ray of light to brighten many a somber day. Surely such a life, brief as it has been, filled with so much of gentle, kindly recollection, has not in any sense been lived in vain.

Master—Dear me, I wonder if it will be raining at this late hour?
Father—Never mind, dear, we can get up the windows in a jiffy.
Frank—Yes, and we are sure to get through with a Jewett.

This Year-Round Jewett Pleases All the Family

Comfort That Defies Weather—Performance To Be Proud Of

Jewett Sedan is breezy and cool on hot days. All side windows lower, as illustrated. You enjoy all the "openness" of a touring car. In the dusty stretch or sudden storm, raise the windows and you are just as snug and clean as at home. Lock the doors and luggage is safe.

When Jack Frost comes, this Jewett Sedan is doubly prized by all the family. With windows closed tight—they do close tight—you are comfortable on the bitterest days. You will go out often, keep in close touch with your friends, really use your car.

But Jewett Sedan gives more than weather comfort. With the longest springs of any car in size—and sturdy, deep seat cushions—it defies rough roads. Its rugged construction—Jewett is 200 pounds heavier than comparable cars—gives big car riding ease. It is finished, fitted and built to please and endure. When the doors. The sound is superbly substantial worth.

Jewett Sedan is known as "the closed car with open car performance," due to the spirit of its 50-horsepower motor. Pass any car on any hill. Jewett Touring car accelerates from 5 to 25 miles an hour in 7 seconds in high gear. The Sedan does nearly the same. Drive it from 2 to 60 miles an hour on high. You surely change gears. When you do, it means a least 3-inch movement of the lever. Do it fast or slowly—there's never a "clunk" nor a "clash." Women prize the Jewett for its easy handling.

Jewett's mechanism in every particular, says good Jewett is the only Sedan around $1700 made by a builder of first quality cars. Paige-Tinsman sales front and rear. Paige-type clutch and transmission. Paige-built motor. Sturdy 6-inch frame. It is an economical car for long, hard, satisfactory service—a wonderful car at the price of a first. Arrange for a family demonstration in this year-round Jewett Sedan.
